

Baitfish are here!!

Written by Capt. Matt

Monday, 23 September 2013 00:23

The fall migration of baitfish is here. Schools of mullet and pilchards are around Haulover cut. That means the the predators will be close behind. Snook, bluefish, mackerel and jacks are feeding along the beaches and inlets. Soon, the first cold fronts will be here, and with the drop in water temperature, the fishing will heat up! Dolphin are hit or miss offshore, kings are here and there, but the bottom fishing is good. Some wahoo were caught near the full moon. It's only going to get better! Capt Matt